

Lauren Berger

The Intern Queen

Lauren Berger is known as The Intern Queen after participating in 15 internships during her 4 years of college. Berger established INTERN QUEEN INC. officially in 2008 with the goal of connecting students with their dream internship opportunities. The Intern Queen's presentation will cover everything from how to find your ideal internship to how to turn that internship experience into a job opportunity. Berger will discuss managing an unpaid internship, monitoring your social media networks, nailing your interview, and much more. Lauren Berger has been recently featured in BusinessWeek, New York Post Page Six, E!News, ABC News Now, CBS, FOX, NBC, and more. Visit her site for more information at <http://www.internqueen.com> and come meet her in person.
