• STEPHEN KIERAN LECTURE ON THURSDAY

Philadelphia-based architect Stephen Kieran, FAIA, will deliver a lecture in Wilde Auditorium in the Harry Jack Gray Center on Thursday, October 2, at 6:00 PM. Before the lecture, there will be a reception in the architecture studios at 4:30 PM. Kieran has been producing ground-breaking work (like the Cellophane House, at left) with his partner James Timberlake and their firm, KieranTimberlake Associates, with particular focus on research, innovative design, and planning services. Their practice recently won the Firm of the Year Award from the American Institute of Architects. Kieran received his Bachelor's degree from Yale University and his Master of Architecture from the University of Pennsylvania, where he is currently an adjunct faculty member of the University of Pennsylvania's School of Design. He and Timberlake lead a graduate research studio that explores the emerging interface between architecture as high art and the integration of developing technologies in materials science and product engineering. You can visit the firm's website at kierantimberlake.com.

• DRAWING WORKSHOP MID-OCTOBER

Architect and artist James Wines will visit the Architecture Department to conduct a drawing workshop that will focus on the expressive qualities of freehand drawing and graphic communication. The workshop is mandatory for all AET 110 students and is open to all other architecture students, graduate and undergraduate. If you are not an AET 110 student and want to take part in the workshop, which will be offered from 8:00 AM to 11:20 AM on October 15 and October 16, with a wrap-up review for all students from 12:00 to 1:15 on October 16, please talk to Mike Crosbie.

• BE KIND

Several students have reported missing items in studio, and trash that hasn’t quite made it into a trashcan. It is easy to borrow a scale or a T-square and then forget to return it. Please be respectful of other people’s property and workspace (especially dedicated desks). Ask before you borrow, and remember to return what you took. Each studio should spend a few minutes at the start of class making sure that trash gets tossed. It’s all covered in the University of Hartford Studio Culture Policy, posted on our beautiful periwinkle walls. Thanks.
